

J'ay par trop longuement ayme

Claudin de Sermisy (b. c. 1490, d. 1562)

Trans. Carol Anne Perry Lagemann (SCA Kasha Alekseeva)

Too long this love has en - - - flamed

Too long this love has en -

Too long this love me; By now what to ex - pect I've

- - - flamed me;

has en - - - flamed me; By now what to ex - learned.

By now what to ex - pect I've learned.

pect I've learned to ex - pect I've

I'm blamed; I want her to blame me.

I'm blamed; I want learned. I'm blamed; I want her to 30

This tor - ment is the prize I her to blame me. This blame me. This tor - ment is the prize

37

earn Each

tor - ment is the prize I earn

I earn, is the prize I

44

time the me - mo - ries re - turn,

Each time the me - mo - ries re - turn, that earn Each time the me - mo -

51

And think - ing where my time I spent, where they re - turn, And think - ing where my time ries re - turn, And think - ing where my time I 59

my time I spent, I cry sin - cere - ly while I
I spent, I cry sin - cere - ly while I
8 spent, I cry sin - cere - ly while I

67
burn: "For - give me, please! For - give me, please!
burn: "For - give me, please! For - give me, please!
8 burn: "For - give me, please! For - give me, please! I

75
I do re - pent. For - give me, please! For - give me, I do re - pent. For - give me, please! For - 8 do re - pent. For - give me, please! For -

83
please! I do re - pent."
give me, please! I do re - pent."
8 give me, please! I do re - pent."