

Venus, du und dein Kind

Jacob Regnard (b. between 1540-1545; d. 1599)
 Trans. Carol Anne Perry Lagemann (SCA Kasha Alekseeva)

1.You, Ve - nus, and your son Your deeds have blind - ly done, And 2.Dear Love, you're just a child Whose poi - soned darts fly wild; Once
 3.You with a sin - gle joy say: A thou - sand hurts de - ploy. You
 4.That's why to all I say: Shun Love and run a - way, Or you en - cour - age blind - ness In those who beg your kind - ness, As in the heart they're root - ed, That heart is soon de - lud - ed, As give a note of laugh - ter; A thou - sand hurts come af - ter, As else the wind you'll fol - low, To seek what's cold and hol - low. I

5

9

I dis - cov - ered clear - ly When young - er years were near me.
 I dis - cov - ered clear - ly When young - er years were near me.
 I dis - cov - ered clear - ly When young - er years were near me.
 learned this ve - ry clear - ly When young - er years were near me.